“ Sorry for your loss...Eloy and I were good friends growing up I was devastated to hear he was gone. So many memories with him growing up. one thing to say bout eloy he never backed down from a challenge I think that was one of the the things that brought us together but mostly his charisma and his big heart behind the fact of having no fear was awesome. You will be missed buddy and like I say it's never goodbye but see you soon. You earned your wings fly high friend.

I wish things could've worked out for the better but Eloy was on another level, always partying, seeing so many women that had no ambition, he was not one to better himself. He was comfortable with the lifestyle he lived, partying, drugs, alcohol abuse. He wasn't someone to settle down with. May he RIP but I'm Happy I got away from him. He has nothing going for him.
