“ I've been friends with Gabriel since 7th grade. We grew up blocks from each other. He was a unique individual even at the age of 12. In the summers he's show up in my house even before I was awake and be hanging out with my mom. My mom loved Juan and Juan loved my mom. Sometimes I would wonder if she loved him more. Those were the times when girls were on our minds and believe me he drew the girls . We would hang out at the Rocket skating ring and talk to girls. He made it look so easy. As we started 9th grade he gave me the confidence to talk to this cute girl who later and today is still my wife. As high school continued we grew some what apart like most childhood friends do. I had a girlfriend and he hung out with different crowds. I always thought he would be a movie star or singer. I'm sure he would of tried out for American Idol if it existed back then. That's how talented he was. Then life took us our different ways. And now as I sit here at this club Doc Hollidays slamming shots in ur memory. I can't help but think that you should be here with us. You have been and will always remain the life of the party and although your life on this earth was cut short , you have lived more and seen more than most . Your light shined brighter than the sun , too bright for us ,too bright for this world. As one of the great songs in history. Shine on you crazy diamond.

“ I am speechless, my friend. I really am. You will always be my superstar! Know that I am saddened by your passing, very. But, I also know that you LIVED! You taught me that, to live out loud, to be courageous, to embrace life wholeheartedly. You hold a special place in my heart, always and forever! Praying that you are at peace and may your bright spirit shine on. You've now taken your place among the brightest stars in the sky! I take comfort in that when we gaze upon the stars, we will see you there, in your full glory. Love you, amigo mio! Thank you for sharing a little bit of your life with me. It was an honor and I have cherished the fun, free times we shared. You are and will always be the most beautiful!

“ I will never for the day I got in trouble for unlocking the door and letting you in Tio :) I was about 6/7yrs old, and was staying the weekend at my grandpas and grandma Lupes house.. Well Tio Gabriel had stayed out late one night and Grandma had locked him out lol, I was asleep.. middle of the night I hear someone knocking on my window.. "It's me your Tio Gabriel" he whispered through window.. tells me to go unlock the door in the kitchen and let him in... next day Gma Lupe had got on to me about opening the door.. haha

Tio was always fun to be around, loving, full of life, and multitalented too! He could cook, decorate, make you pretty and knock your lights out if needed.. Just all over the place :)

Gone Too Soon Tio :( I know we grew apart.. just know I have so much love for you and will always remember the great influence you had on my life.

“ Growing up next door to all of you... You were like family... Mr and Mrs Soto were our parents... And Juan, Abel, Ray, and Pablo were brothers..... Many times it was Juan, Abel and I that went to the creek.... Jacks grocery store to play video games, and also to cause trouble to the people in the neighborhood..... We were kids, with nothing to do, so that was what we did... Threw rocks at people, set fires, going to that place call lucky landing on our bikes, and all sorts of mischief... I guess that was 35 years ago... Life was so much simpler then.... But, I would not change anything.... It was deep rooted friendship and family with the Soto Family, that defined me....

I am proud to call Juan a friend and brother..... And I will miss him.... I love you guys.. I am so sorry, that you are going through this..... Mark Roberts

“ Life is such a beautiful contrast. Just these past few days, I was having the time of my life. A few minutes ago, my dear friend Gabriel Soto left this world to be in a better place. My heart is sad. My thoughts and prayers go to my second family, the Soto's. May our Lord grant them peace and strength during their time of loss. Gabriel, I will always miss you and your positive outlook; always being the life of the party. I love you little bro.
