Yolanda was a woman of extraordinary gifts, and in her own unassuming way, exuding a heart full of love. These attributes epitomize Yolanda to begin her journey on this earth with austere and humble beginnings. She was born in Nueva Rosita Coahuila Mexico, January 11, 1941 to Jose and Jovita Rios. She was the 3rd of six siblings. At an early age she was raised to understand and appreciate the value of a vigorous work ethic. In keeping with her upbringing at a young age she was afforded practical learning opportunities.

Yolanda learned the craft of seamstress. As her desire strengthen to improve her position in life. Marriage united her with José Manuel Rodriguez (1962) her husband of 61 years. Yolanda added to their union 9 children.

Through her working years she flourished as a seamstress, a consummated mother, homemaker, and a wonderful cook always inclined to care for her children. Her children were always her priority. The family enjoyed the simple pleasures of life. A good listener she could seat for hours and listen to her Children. She considers her relentless passion for service to others to be her gift and resolved to fulfill that purpose. She faithfully demonstrate it throughout her life, in ways large and small such as opening her home to others who needed a place to live, providing clothes, money or just extending an open heart. She sacrificed and gave her all.

She committed her life in Baptism to her Lord and Savior in the early 70's. From that moment on, she faithfully served the Lord. Church Services and her Church family were her passion. In her later years in life it was difficult to attend. On service days she would grab her bible and head for the door.

Yolanda will be favorably remembered by those who knew and loved her as a woman of faith, exemplary integrity, compassion and commitment to others, a trusted confidant, and a God fearing humble servant.
